

HELP BRING BLOOD SPORTS TO AN END

PLEASE SUPPORT OUR CAMPAIGN NOW

Every year, thousands of animals are harassed, injured and killed in the Irish countryside. The sadistic minority who take pleasure in blood sport cruelty are heartless in their treatment of these vulnerable creatures.

Hares are snatched from the wild and forced to run for their lives on coursing fields. Foxes are chased for miles and brutally torn apart by packs of dogs. Cubs are dug out of the ground and thrown to the hounds to be killed. Stags and hinds are chased for up to three hours until exhaustion brings their terrified and injured bodies to a standstill.

The Irish Council Against Blood Sports has been campaigning for over 30 years to bring this horrific animal cruelty to an end. Now, more than ever, we need your support. Become a supporter of our campaign or renew your support and together we can work for an end to blood sports in Ireland. Please complete the form below and return it to us today.
